

Inspector XSites

Real stories

"There is not a week that goes by that I do not get business because of our XSite... and even better, we use the site to upsell extra services. So we not only get more inspections, but we get more money for each inspection."

— Dan Howard, www.HomeInspectionsByDanHoward.com

"It always keeps me in first place in the Google and other search ratings. I get fully 30% of my business from my site and really think it is one of the best investments an inspector can have."

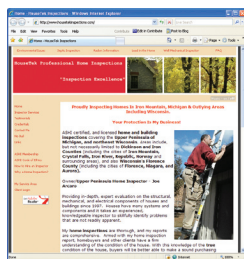

— Mark S. Connelly, www.Prospector4u.com

"I like my XSite because it's very easy for me to make my own changes. It's just so easy that a first time computer user can navigate through their own XSite and add their own content anytime. Thanks!"

— Greg Genser, www.CypressInspections.com

"For the small amount of money it costs, the XSite is a great marketing tool. I am by no means a computer tech but I definitely find adding items to the website quick and easy."

— Nicola Baird-Latham, www.ReiAndCo.com

"The XSite is my most effective marketing tool. It ranks at the top of search engines, it's easy to edit and maintain, and it's responsible for a large percentage of my business. Thank you very much for a wonderful service."

— Joe Arcaro

"Every client who visits my site loves it. The website has convinced many a prospective client to hire me to inspect their home for them."

— Russ Harrell, www.HHInspector.com

"We have had nothing but positive feedback from our clients since the day we set it up. It's the best thing we've ever done for our business."

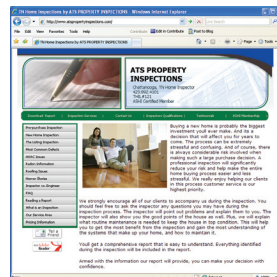

— Marion, www.ProInspectionandTesting.com

"Our clients love the way our site looks. We get a lot of business from it."

— Gary Middleton, www.GCIMob.com

"I have been with a la mode since starting my inspection business 6 years ago. I have come to rely more and more on my website to facilitate with tasks such as inspection report retrieval, processing of credit cards, sample reports, etc. The user-friendly Wizard feature helps me make changes in a matter of moments. Feedback from clients is positive. I definitely recommend partnering up with Inspector XSites from a la mode."

— Hank Spinnler, www.HarmonyInspection.com

"My XSite has made it extremely easy for a non computer guy to easily change the content and look of the site and allows me to communicate my marketing message in the way I want to. No phone tag with the web master to make changes. Simply put, it says what I want it to when I want it to without making me jump through hoops. When the renewal comes due, I take some time to research other site options and yet each year, I go back to my business philosophy, "Give them more than they expect, and do your best". a la mode and my XSite do that for me. What more can you ask of a partner?"
